MEXICO'S FULLNESS.

The Wealth Enclosed by the "Golden Bracelet" of America.

The Historic Love of Our Sister Republic—Her Boundless Agricultural and Mineral Riches—The Railroads.

Chicago Advance.

India has been called the jewel pendant of Asia; Mexico is the golden bracelet of North America. This continent contains eight millions of square miles; South America, seven millions. The aggregate size of these two is four times larger than all Europe, and about equal to three-tenths of the whole land surface of the globe. Hugh Miller says that this land geologically speaking was the first to lift its hand out of the weary waste of waters; and there are those who assert that the oldest civilization was on this continent that there was a people here, with arts and sciences and culture, very with antiquity when our forefathers were barbarians in the woods of Germany. Some wise men believe that these were cities rich and full in the land of the Montezumas, when all England was a wildwood, and London only a rendezvous for savages. It is very certain that when Cortes came to Mexico in 1520, he found a people whose astronomical calculations of the true length of the year were better than any then known to Europe. While all Europe was at that time under the Julian Calendar, which was wrong by twelve days, the Aztecs in Mexico only missed the true length of the year by two minutes and four seconds. The largest pyramid in the world is not on the Nile; it is in Mexico, in the state of Puebla. The pyramid of Cholula covers less than twenty acres, and that of Chichen covers forty-four. The largest and richest cathedral to-day on this continent is not in New York or Boston or any of our large cities. It is in Puebla, in old Mexico.

The Republic of Mexico extends from the 15th to the 20th degree of north latitude. Its extreme length is 2,000 miles, and its width 1,100 miles. It has a coast line on the Gulf and the Caribbean, and on the Pacific, with a coastline of nearly 6,000 miles, which is said to be greater in proportion to its area than that of any other part in the known world. It joins the Atlantic and the Pacific, so that the coast line of Mexico is double that of Great Britain, and twice that of France. The coast line of Mexico is 1,500 miles.

In its range it embraces the plain, the table-land, and mountains, and has all the climates and products of the tropical and temperate zones, and the soil and site of each.

Second class mail matter.

"Massachusetts" is still on a terrible high.

CHARLES BACKUS, the well-known minister, is dying in New York.

Tax ghoulish story from Philadelphia, published in our news columns, is enough to make one blush for his kind.

BISHOP OLMSTED, one of the most noted theologians of this country, died yesterday at Natal, South Africa.

HENCEFORWARD, by a new law of this State, laborers and servants are protected creditors in a case of voluntary bankruptcy, where wages are due that were earned within three months preceding the making of the assignment. This is simple justice for the protection of a class of poor men and women who have heretofore been entirely overlooked by the law.

There seems to be no limit to the capacity for blundering enjoyed by the average Democrat. The compulsory education bill was passed by the house of representatives just before its final adjournment, by a vote of 85 to 8. Of those voting in the negative, every man of them was, is, and ever will be, a Democrat, and the strange part of it is that they are not ashamed of the position they assumed on the side of ignorance and vice.

The Vicksburg Herald, one of the best journals of the south, joins issue with those northern writers who insist that the more cotton the south raises the better off it must be. It says that "the poor pine lands of Mississippi, in diversified farming and fruit culture, are making more money than the richest lands of the valley in cotton," and that to day it costs more to raise cotton and produce it for market than it will fetch.

The New York City and County Republican Central Committee has adopted the plan of reorganization prepared by the Committee of Eighteen.
The only changes made in it by the Executive Committee are that the proposed enrollment be made in November, after the general election instead of September, and that all who call themselves Republicans, whether they belong to the district organizations or not, may be enrolled.

There is anguish of spirit among the department clerks at Washington, on account of a clause put in the general appropriation bill by the last Congress, upon motion of Hon. J. G. Cannon, of this state, which extends the hours of labor performed by the clerks aforesaid.
The rule for some years has been to dismiss the clerks at 3 o'clock p.m., and this amendment of Mr. Cannon's provides for keeping them at their desks an hour later. So outraged are these overworked clerks feel at this oppressive legislation, that they are raising a fund, it is said, to be devoted to the defeat of Mr. Cannon for re-election next year. The clerks no doubt feel very badly about it, but if they want to have Joe Cannon nominated and elected unanimously next year they cannot more easily accomplish that end than by informing the people of his district that he has been instrumental in getting a little more work out of the department clerks.

COMPULSORY EDUCATION.

The Thirty third General Assembly of Illinois has been the subject of a great deal of deserved criticism, but it accomplished a few things that ought to go far towards redeeming its memory from general condemnation, and among the few bright spots in its record none will call for more widespread endorsement than the passage of the compulsory education bill, the full text of which we publish in this issue. As this country grows older and more populous it becomes more and more apparent that the great safeguard to the perpetuity of our free institutions lies in the virtue and intelligence of the people. Ignorance and vice naturally go together, and where the ballot of the illiterate counts equally with that cast by the intelligent voter, it becomes a matter of the gravest import that there should be as few as possible of the class who vote viciously because it votes igno-rantly. It is the right of society, nay, its solemn duty, to protect itself from the dangers which vice and ignorance entail. It is not reasonable to expect that any legislation can make all the people of a state virtuous, sober, industrious and honest, but it is altogether practical for the state to decree that nobody shall be vicious or depraved because of a lack of opportunity to acquire the rudiments of an education founded upon privileges calculated to develop virtue rather than vice. The state of Illinois has for many years provided these opportunities, and paid the expense thereof by a tax levied upon all the property of the state. At first this system of free public schools was opposed with much vigor by a considerable number of the people, but it has gradually come to be recognized as one of the most essential functions of the government, and he would be a reckless man who would be willing to risk his reputation in an attempt to radically change it.

The state having furnished to all the children within its bounds the opportunity of securing an education, legislation need have gone no farther if all the people of the state had availed themselves of the opportunity, but statistics show that a very large percentage of the children of the state are not sent to school, but are permitted by their parents to grow up in ignorance. This being the case the necessity for a law that should make the opportunity available to all becomes apparent. The state cannot afford to permit any considerable number of its children to grow up in ignorance; the law just passed is a good and wholesome one, and the legislature did well to enact it.

sumption.

New York Journal.

"About June 20 the trade in poutry and game will open with a boom for the seaside and mountain resorts," said Mr. John Dohran, of Washington Market. "Parties in Washington Market have packed away in ice-houses in Vermont and other points 300,000 pounds of poultry, comprising turkeys, ducks, chickens and geese, besides vast quantities of wild ducks, red birds, pigeons, quail, etc. There are twenty firms who have about the same quantity, and which will sell on an average of 25 cents for turkeys, 23 cents for fowls, 35 cents for chickens, 25 cents for geese, and higher prices for game, of course."

The summer resorts, especially Saratoga, Newport, Long Branch, White Mountains, Catskill and Coney Island, will use it all, and the happy guest will pay an advance of 50 per cent on the cost price."

An Item for Our Girls

Sopuds will not chaperone injure the hands, even if kept a long time in it, if on taking them from the suds they are thoroughly rinsed or dipped in lemon juice or vinegar.
The acid destroys the corrosive effects of the alkali and makes the hands soft and white. Indian meal and lemon juice used when washing the hands, when roughed by cold or hard work, will heal and soften them.
Vinegar will answer if lemons are not easily obtained. Rub the hands in this, then wash thoroughly, and if you have it, after drying put on a few drops of glycerine. Those who suffer from chapped hands in the winter will find this comforting, and will make sewing much easier.

The best and most illustrious memorial day speech ever made was Lincoln's address, delivered at the dedication of the soldiers' national cemetery at Gettysburg:

"Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth upon this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.
"Now we are engaged in a civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of that war.
We are met to dedicate a portion of it as a final resting place of those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this."

"But in a larger sense we cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate, we cannot hallow that ground. The brave men living and dead, who struggled here have consecrated it far above our own power to add or subtract. The world will little note what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us, the living, rather to be dedicated here to the unfinished work that they have thus far so nobly carried on. It is rather for us to here dedicated to the great task remaining before us, that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to the cause for which they here gave the last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that the dead shall not have died in vain; that the nation shall, under God, have a new birth of freedom, and that the government of the people by the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth."

An Indianapolis correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer (Dem) says that Mr. Hendricks recently remarked to him: "Did you ever think what a task lies before a Democratic president who succeeds a long Republican administration? Just think of 100,000 Federal offices to fill and 10,000,000 applicants for them. I am quite willing that any man who covets the task shall have it." Hendricks has evidently not heard of the new Civil Service law.

The Remains of Twenty-One Babes Found in a

Hounds Fed on Their Flesh—The
"Doctor" Under Arrest—
Killed by Electricity—Criminal and San-ctinal.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 21.—The tiny skull bones of twenty-one partially developed infants were unearthed yesterday, in the cellar of the premises, No. 1425 North Fifth street, formerly occupied by "Doctor" Isaac Hathaway, who has frequently been implicated in cases of abortion and other criminal offenses. The Doctor has been in prison for several weeks under a charge of assault and battery made by his step-son. On Sunday last the case went before the court, in connection with an effort on the part of the friends of the Doctor to secure his release. After the step-son had given his testimony he mentioned to Court Officer Solomon Rugh, that he could make out the old man account for more crimes than the present one—such as would startle the town.
On Monday night he "detained" detective Miller and Weller on the strength of this, but they put him into custody and communicated with the police, and he was soon released.

Twenty-one infantile craniums and a lot of thread-like bones were turned up by the police, about 4 o'clock in the evening, when the house was searched by the police. The police showed a willingness to tear up the entire floor of the cellar, but the deputy coroner said that the number already obtained was sufficient, and therefore the search was discontinued.

The skulls and bones were then placed in a box and taken possession of by the coroner, who had been called out to inspect the scene of the crime.

THE CIRCUIT COURT.

May Term, 1883—Judge Smith, of Champaign, Presiding.

THURSDAY, JUNE 21.

Court convened at 8:30 a.m.

A VERDICT FOR $4,383.

The celebrated Boddy breach of promise case of Miss Sarah Eckhardt against Charles C. Jokisch, an action to recover damages placed at $3,000, was given to the jury last evening with instructions to assess the same for presentation this morning. This morning at the opening of court the sealed verdict was opened by Judge Smith and read. The verdict was: "Issue for the plaintiff," and damages assessed at $4,383.33.

Henry Eckhardt, the father of plaintiff in the breach of promise case, has filed a motion to set aside the verdict and open it to the jury again to consider the same.
The court adjourned to consider the motion.

THE PEOPLE'S DOCKET.

This is the day set for the commencement of the trials of indicted criminal cases, and such cases will receive attention from day to day until all are disposed of.

The People vs. Daniel Elliott, indicted for burglary and larceny in stealing goods from James Gogarty's place of business in the 5th ward; trial by jury.

ALTERED Hotel Beatz.

Some six weeks ago, two men claiming to have been from Concord, N. H., made their debüt in this city, one claiming to be a lawyer, the other a cabinet workman. They gave their names as Owen and John Deasy. Owen (the lawyer) claimed to be a graduate of some eastern law school, and John a cabinet workman. They gained the confidence of Mr. C. W. Carter, who runs a boarding house at No.
337 East William street, and gave him the slip at 12 o'clock last night, leaving an unpaid board bill, the amount $40.
Mr. Carter would like to have the money.

A FAILED Report.

It was published yesterday that the license at Macon, in this county, had been elevated from $250 to $1,000 a year.
The statement was incorrect, as we are informed by Mr. Robert Bivans, a member of the town council, who called at this office to-day and renewed his subscription to the REPUBLICAN. Macon has a prohibition board of aldermen, all having been elected on a no-license ticket; therefore there is no occasion to fix a license rate, as saloons are not allowed in the town. Yes, Macon is high license, con-siderately higher than $1,000 a year.
